The origin of the music is uncertain, but the lyric we know today as "Yankee Doodle" was written in the 1750's by a British Army surgeon named Dr. Richard Shackburg. Dr. Shackburg's lyric was a satirical portrait of the rag-tag American colonists fighting alongside the British regulars in the French and Indian War. By 1776, however, those colonists had adopted Yankee Doodle, added verses of their own and turned it into an unofficial anthem for American Independence.

"Fisher's Hornpipe" first appeared in a collection of hornpipes composed by J. Fishar dated 1780. A hornpipe is a dance, slightly slower than a reel, characterized by fancy footwork" and is considered to be the pre-cursor to modern tap dancing.
